Washington, D. C., May 18.—Retail business in Brainerd of approximately $6,000,000 is shown by the Bureau of the Census in the release today of the returns from the 1930 Distribution Census now being compiled. The 1930 population of Brainerd is 10,221.

The bureau reports 184 retail stores with a total annual business of $5,901,522, a yearly payroll of $468,000, and the full-time employment of 392 men and women. The reported number of employees does not include those working part time, although the payroll of part-time employees is included in salaries and wages. Merchandise in stock for sale at the end of 1929 shows a cost value of $953,014.

The total of 184 stores includes 162 single-store independents, 13 units of sectional chains, and 9 units of national chains. Sales of these two types of chain organizations aggregate $1,188,871, or 20 per cent of the total retail business, while sales of the single-store independents amount to $4,712,651, or 79 per cent. These figures are based upon reports received in 1930 covering the year 1929.

The food group takes the lead in this report, with the automotive group second, and the general merchandise group third in order of sales.

Food stores total 49, and report sales of $1,378,958, or 23 per cent of the total retail business. Of this number, 23 are grocery stores with sales of $541,650 and 14 are combination stores (groceries and meats) with sales of $619,871. Many bakeries which manufacture their own products are included in the Census of Manufacturers and do not appear in this report, but two stores selling bakery goods are reported.

The automobile group, with 40 establishments, does a business of $1,292,720, or 22 per cent of the total retail business. Sales in eight motor-vehicle establishments amount to $854,999, and sales in three accessory, tire, and battery stores to $97,554. A total of 18 filling stations is reported with aggregate sales of $296,886 in gas, oil, tires, and other accessories. This merchandise is also sold in 11 garages whose total business of $43,281 includes receipts from repairs and storage as well as from sales.

The general merchandise group, which includes department stores, dry-goods stores, general stores, and variety, 5-and-10, and to-a-dollar stores, reports sales of $1,104,787 in 15 stores, or 19 per cent of the total retail business, employs the full-time services of 91 men and women, and pays $97,384 annually in salaries and wages. The 3 department stores report sales of $646,171, while 6 dry-goods stores, 2 general stores, and 4 variety, 5-and-10, and to-a-dollar stores report total sales of $458,616. Inventory for the group as of the end of the reporting year totals $249,447.

The apparel group of 14 stores reports a business of $319,937, employs 20 full-time people, and pays $24,459 in salaries and wages annually. This group consists of 4 men's stores, 2 women's specialty shops, 1 clothing store, 3 millinery shops, 2 shoe stores, and 2 other apparel and accessory shops.

The 13 restaurants and other eating places in Brainerd employ 29 full-time people, and do a business of $154,837. This volume of business is exclusive of meals served in dining rooms operated by hotels and boarding houses, and of lunches served in drug stores. The total payroll of the 13 restaurants and eating places is $21,016.

The lumber and building group, with 13 stores and yards, reports 51 full-time employees, and a total retail business of $776,692. This group includes lumber yards, and hardware, heating and plumbing, and paint and glass stores. Planning mills and similar establishments which manufacture building materials are included in the Census of Manufacturers and do not appear in this report.

Other large business classifications shown in detail in this report are feed stores, coal and wood yards, furniture stores, drug stores and radio and music stores.

This report is a comprehensive picture of the retail business in Brainerd and is part of the first basic nationwide Census of Distribution now being compiled by the Bureau of the Census.

SEVEN YOUTHS IN
AUTO KILLED BY
PASSENGER TRAIN

Calamus, Ill., May 18.—(U.P.)—A Sunday afternoon joy-ride turned suddenly into tragedy for four girls and three boys of high school age when Walter Mumford, 17, of De Witt drove his car into the path of a fast Northwestern passenger train. He and his six companions were killed.

The dead, besides Mumford, were: Martha Berner, 20; Medona Berner, 19; Bernadette Berner, 16; Mona Berner, 15; Arnold Berner, 13; and Mildred Beyers, 16, of De Witt. The Berner boys and girls all lived at Toronto, a few miles from here. They were all of one family and were cousins of Mumford.

The passenger train was west bound. Mumford waited at the crossing for an east bound freight to pass, then drove his car, witnesses said, directly into the path of the passenger train. The automobile was carried a block and bodies of the seven young persons, all killed instantly, were hurled along the right-of-way.

Valparaiso, Ind., May 18.—(U.P.)—Two of the youths who attended the wine and alcohol revel where Arlene Draves, 18-year-old school girl, was fatally injured, waived their constitutional rights today and turned state witnesses at the second trial of their co-defendant, Virgil Kirkland, who is charged with Arlene's murder, and faces a mandatory death sentence if convicted again.

Without reservation, Paul Barton, 21-year-old steel worker, and Henry Shirk, his married companion, admitted their actions at the party, and accused Kirkland of leading the attacks which state medical experts declared led to the girl's death.

Shirk testified he and his wife reached the David Thompson home on the rainy, chill November night, while the party was at its height, and passed Kirkland and Arlene, on a davenport, as he went into the kitchen, where liquor was being served.

Shirk charged that Kirkland later invited him to go outside and into the automobile where Arlene was. He declared that he refused Kirkland's suggestion, but went outside as Leon Stanford was returning and saw Earl Elser at the machine. Elser withdrew, Shirk said, when his wife called from the porch.

Shirk asserted that Kirkland was insistent and that he got into the automobile, but returned to the house a moment later. While in the automobile, Shirk said he became concerned over Arlene's condition.

Shirk quoted Kirkland as remarking "There's nothing wrong—she's just passed out." Later, on cross-examination, Shirk said he believed then that Arlene was "either drunk or dead—Kirkland said she was drunk, but I reply,

YOUNG REPORTS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, May 18.—In civil aeronautics the United States is pre-eminent among the nations of the world, President Hoover was told today by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Clarence M. Young.

A transport, passenger and mail airways system is in operation which is superior to all the rest of the world combined, Young said in an annual report submitted personally to the chief executive because of Mr. Hoover's interest in development of this industry.

Progress over last year in all lines of aviation except manufacturing—was reported by Young. He was proudest, however, of the airways system, which was started when Mr. Hoover was in the commerce department. Of this he stated:

"The federal airways system, although in the process of establishment, already is superior to the airways of any nation or group of nations. When completed, the system will total about 25,000 miles of lighted airways, equipped with every practicable aid to air navigation.

"This system of airways and airlines now in continuous day and night operation with passengers, mail and express, has demonstrated in the past four years that it is a factor that must be recognized whenever consideration is given to the subject of transportation in the United States."

Some of the items of progress noted by Young since his report a year ago were:

Airlines—flying 130,000 miles every 24 hours, an increase of 25,000 miles. Transportation investment—650 planes in operation valued at $14,000,000 employed by 44 companies on 125 routes as compared with 550 aircraft valued at $10,000,000 serving the needs of 43 scheduled operators on 116 routes a year ago.

believe now that she was dead because I've thought a lot about it in jail."

Barton declared that Thompson went into the rear seat with Arlene and said that he followed when Kirkland suggested it. Like Shirk, he denied attacking the girl. He charged that Kirkland told him, "Go ahead—don't be a baby."

Both Shirk and Barton were insistent that they were testifying voluntarily, and that their constitutional right to stand mute, and denied being offered any promises of immunity, light punishment or other considerations for aiding the state.

Shirk identified undergarments handed to him as clothing he wore the night of the party. When Shirk, held passed out," she's just passed out." Later, on cross-examination, Shirk said he believed then that Arlene was "either drunk or dead—Kirkland said she was drunk, but I reply,

HER AMERICAN WAR
HERO, FIRST WOUNDED

New Orleans, La., May 18.—(U.P.)—Edgar Boulligny, hero of the foreign legion and the first American wounded in the world war, was killed at his home today by his French wife.

She told officers in stumbling English that Boulligny had whipped and slapped her.

The shooting occurred in the French quarter apartment occupied by the couple shortly after Boulligny had finished dressing.

Boulligny, winner of the Croix de Guerre, was a direct descendant of Gen. Dominique de Boulligny who led Napoleon's troops in Louisiana.

WADDELLSTATE COMPTROLLER ACCUSES FORMER COMMISSIONER OF PERSONAL PURCHASES

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—(U.P.)—P. R. Waddell, deposed deputy state commissioner of purchases, was charged with a shortage of $4,364.81 today in a report made by E. J. Pearlove, state comptroller.

Copies of the report were sent to Michael F. Kinkadee, Ramsey county attorney; Governor Floyd B. Olson and Attorney General Henry M. Benson.

Although the major part of the alleged shortage is covered by bond, Pearlove said $738.78 was not covered because of the lapse of one of Waddell's bonds.

The shortage was revealed during an investigation made at the request of H. W. Austin, state commissioner of purchases, who discharged Waddell on Feb. 5.

Pearlove said he would ask the attorney general to start suit against Waddell for the amount not covered by his bond. The report was sent to Kinkadee for him to take action if he found any violations of the law.

Pearlove, the report said, found that Waddell had made purchases for himself and other state employees and that Waddell had accepted money from other employees without making an accounting with various creditors of the state.

The report lists 26 concerns from whom merchandise was purchased. He charged that approximately $1,000 of the goods was for Waddell's own use.

The largest amount is owed to the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Minneapolis, from whom it is alleged Waddell purchased $1,924.88 worth of goods without paying the bills.

Austin asked the investigation, Pearlove said, when the former discovered an unpaid bill for merchandise purchased by Mr. Waddell. He charged that the bill supposedly had been paid.

The alleged shortages cover a period from Feb. 23, 1929, to Feb. 5, 1931. The merchandise purchased includes cameras, tires, batteries, paint, papers, and automobile accessories.

SPEED PILOT IS

AT OMAHA RACES20,000 SEE FAMOUS FLIER CRASH
FROM 25 FEET AT 300 MILES
AN HOURDESIRE TO GIVE CROWD GREAT-
EST THRILL SEEN AS CAUSE OF HIS DEATH

Omaha, May 18.—(U.P.)—Charles W. (Speed) Holman, 32, famous aviator, chose certain death rather than imperil the lives of spectators at the Omaha air races, pilots who witnessed his fatal plunge agreed today.

Holman died as spectacularly as he had lived when his plane struck the ground at a speed of nearly 300 miles an hour before the eyes of 20,000 persons packed in the grand stands at the air races.

It was his desire to give that crowd a greater thrill than any they had seen during the afternoon's program that caused his death.

Holman put his plane through outside loops and barrel rolls while the crowd gasped. It was an exhibition of stunt flying such as seldom had been seen in the middle west.

As Holman flew, Joseph Boudwin, inspector of aeronautics for the department of commerce and officials of the local air meet anxiously awaited on the ground for him to land.

Had he done so safely, his license would have been taken from him, it was learned, because in furnishing the crowd its big thrill Holman was endangering spectators' lives as well as his own.

The theory that Holman's safety belt was broken was discounted today although some pilots who stood on the field close to the accident insisted he was hanging too far out of the cockpit to have complete control of his ship.

The fact that he was an unusually large man, six feet four inches tall, may have accounted for this belief.

The body of Holman will be sent tonight to his home in Minneapolis for burial.

Omaha, Neb., May 18.—(U.P.)—Contradictory theories were advanced today concerning the spectacular crash in which Charles W. "Speed" Holman, veteran aviator, was killed while stunting, and the accident appeared destined to enter the records as another unsolved tragedy of aeronautics.

Holman, holder of several aviation honors, winner in 1930 of the Thompson trophy race at Chicago, and operations manager of the Northwest Airways, was killed instantly when he failed to right his plane after diving 2,000 feet and turning it over as it traveled at a tremendous speed in front of a grandstand packed with 20,000 persons.

The 300 horsepower Laird plane, a sister ship to the one in which Holman won his victory at the National Air Races last summer, was reduced to a mass of wreckage, rolling over and over and twisting itself into a tangled heap directly in front of the spectators whom he had thrilled at a three-day aerial circus. His body was found inside the wreckage.

Two general theories were advanced as to the cause of the crash—that Holman misjudged his distance in attempting to level out after the power dive; and that his safety belt broke.

He was only about 50 feet up and traveling at a speed of nearly 300 miles an hour when he dropped. Some spectators said he was dangling from the cockpit by a knee brace as the plane flashed past the grandstand, upside down. They said he was clutching wildly at the controls and appeared for a fraction of a second to grasp them as the plane shot upward, then down again.

H. W. Peterson, of the Boeing Airways, discounted the theory of the broken belt. He said the straps were made ten times stronger than an emergency would require. Inspector Bowdwin of the department of commerce rushed onto the field, obtained the strap and said he could report only to his superiors at Washington.

As Holman's ship crashed, women screamed and fainted. Police fought to maintain order. A band struck up a lively tune. Pilots rushed to their planes and a few minutes later a race was on.

Holman was 32 years old. He became a mail pilot in 1926, flying with the Northwest Airways. Later he won prominence by winning the Class A trophy in a New York to Spokane race. Early in 1928 he set a record for looping the loop, making 1,093 consecutive loops at Minneapolis. He later increased this record to 1,433.

In May, 1929, he won the first Gardiner trophy race from St. Louis to Indianapolis and return. The same year he startled the aviation world by flying a tri-motored plane upside down and looping the big craft five times at the Cleveland air races. Looping a tri-motored plane still is considered a rare and remarkable feat.

"Speed" was a surprise last day entry in last year's Thompson trophy race, the annual Labor Day air classic. He was in second place in the race (Continued on Page 8, Column 1)

SEVEN YOUTHS IN
AUTO KILLED BY
PASSENGER TRAIN

Calamus, Ia., May 18.—(U.P.)—A Sunday afternoon joy-ride turned suddenly into tragedy for four girls and three boys of high school age when Walter Mumford, 17, of DeWitt drove his car into the path of a fast Northwestern passenger train. He and his six companions were killed.

The dead, besides Mumford, were: Martha Berner, 20; Medona Berner, 19; Bernadette Berner, 16; Mona Berner, 15; Arnold Berner, 13; and Mildred Beyers, 16, of DeWitt. The Berner boys and girls all lived at Toronto, a few miles from here. They were all of one family and were cousins of Mumford.

The passenger train was west bound. Mumford waited at the crossing for an east bound freight to pass, then drove his car, witnesses said, directly into the path of the passenger train. The automobile was carried a block and bodies of the seven young persons, all killed instantly, were hurled along the right-of-way.

ATTACKS SAID TO HAVE CAUSED DEATH

Valparaiso, Ind., May 18.—(U.P.)—Two of the youths who attended the wine and alcohol revel where Arlene Draves, 18-year-old school girl, was fatally injured, waived their constitutional rights today and turned state's witnesses at the second trial of their co-defendant, Virgil Kirkland, who is charged with Arlene's murder, and faces a mandatory death sentence if convicted again.

Without reservation, Paul Barton, 21-year-old steel worker, and Henry Shirk, his married companion, admitted their actions at the party, and accused Kirkland of leading the attacks which state medical experts declared led to the girl's death.

Shirk testified he and his wife reached the David Thompson home on the rainy, cold November night, while the party was at its height, and passed Kirkland and Arlene, on a davenport, as he went into the kitchen, where liquor was being served.

Shirk charged that Kirkland later invited him to go outside and into the automobile where Arlene was. He declared that he refused Kirkland's suggestion, but went outside as Leon Stanford was returning and saw Earl Elser at the machine. Elser withdrew, Shirk said, when his wife called from the porch.

Shirk asserted that Kirkland was insistent and that he got into the automobile, but returned to the house a moment later. While in the automobile, Shirk said he became concerned over Arlene's condition.

Shirk quoted Kirkland as remarking "There's nothing wrong—she's just passed out." Later, on cross-examination, Shirk said he believed then that Arlene was "either drunk or dead."

Prosecutor John Underwood did not reply.

YOUNG REPORTS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 18.—In civil aeronautics the United States is pre-eminent among the nations of the world, President Hoover was told today by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Clarence M. Young.

A transport, passenger and mail airways system is in operation which is superior to all the rest of the world combined, Young said in an annual report submitted personally to the chief executive because of Mr. Hoover's interest in development of this industry.

Progress over last year in all lines of aviation except manufacturing—was reported by Young. He was proudest, however, of the airways system, which was started when Mr. Hoover was in the commerce department. Of this he stated:

"The federal airways system, although in the process of establishment, already is superior to the airways of any nation or group of nations. When completed, the system will total about 25,000 miles of lighted airways, equipped with every practicable aid to air navigation.

"This system of airways and airlines now in continuous day and night operation with passengers, mail and express, has demonstrated in the past four years that it is a factor that must be recognized whenever consideration is given to the subject of transportation in the United States."

Some of the items of progress noted by Young since his report a year ago were:

Airlines—flying 130,000 miles every 24 hours, an increase of 25,000 miles. Transportation investment—650 planes in operation valued at $14,000,000 employed by 44 companies on 125 routes as compared with 550 aircraft valued at $10,000,000 serving the needs of 43 scheduled operators on 116 routes a year ago.

believe now that she was dead because I've thought a lot about it in jail."

Barton's story related what happened later during the night, when he said he and Thompson went out to the automobile, found Kirkland and Arlene inside, and drove after sandwiches, stopping enroute at Kirkland's command.

Barton declared that Thompson went into the rear seat with Arlene and said that he followed when Kirkland suggested it. Like Shirk, he denied attacking the girl. He charged that Kirkland told him, "Go ahead—don't be a baby."

Both Shirk and Barton were insistent that they were testifying voluntarily, despite their constitutional right to stand mute, and denied being offered any promises of immunity, light punishment or other considerations for aiding the state.

Shirk identified undergarments handed to him as clothing he wore the night of the party. When Shirk, holding the garments, asked, "Is this the blood that was supposed to be there?"

Prosecutor John Underwood did not reply.

FRENCH WIFE KILLS
HER AMERICAN WAR
HERO, FIRST WOUNDED

New Orleans, La., May 18.—(U.P.)—Edgar Boulligny, hero of the foreign legion and the first American wounded in the world war, was killed at his home today by his French wife.

She told officers in stumbling English that Boulligny had whipped and slapped her.

The shooting occurred in the French quarter apartment occupied by the couple shortly after Boulligny had finished dressing.

Boulligny, winner of the Croix de Guerre, was a direct descendant of Gen. Dominique de Boulligny who led Napoleon's troops in Louisiana.

Holman died as spectacularly as he had lived when his plane struck the ground at a speed of nearly 300 miles an hour before the eyes of 20,000 persons packed in the grand stands at the air races.

It was his desire to give that crowd a greater thrill than any they had seen during the afternoon's program that caused his death.

Holman put his plane through outside loops and barrel rolls while the crowd gasped. It was an exhibition of stunt flying such as seldom had been seen in the middle west.

As Holman flew, Joseph Boudwin, inspector of aeronautics for the department of commerce and officials of the local air meet anxiously awaited on the ground for him to land.

Had he done so safely, his license would have been taken from him, it was learned, because in furnishing the crowd its big thrill Holman was endangering spectators' lives as well as his own.

The theory that Holman's safety belt was broken was discounted today although some pilots who stood on the field close to the accident insisted he was hanging too far out of the cockpit to have complete control of his ship.

The fact that he was an unusually large man, six feet four inches tall, may have accounted for this belief.

The body of Holman will be sent tonight to his home in Minneapolis for burial.

Omaha, Neb., May 18.—(U.P.)—Contradictory theories were advanced today concerning the spectacular crash in which Charles W. "Speed" Holman, veteran aviator, was killed while stunting, and the accident appeared destined to enter the records as another unsolved tragedy of aeronautics.

Holman, holder of several aviation honors, winner in 1930 of the Thompson trophy race at Chicago, and operations manager of the Northwest Airways, was killed instantly when he failed to right his plane after diving 2,000 feet and turning it over as it traveled at a tremendous speed in front of a grandstand packed with 20,000 persons.

The 300 horsepower Laird plane, a sister ship to the one in which Holman won his victory at the National Air Races last summer, was reduced to a mass of wreckage, rolling over and over and twisting itself into a tangled heap directly in front of the spectators whom he had thrilled at a three-day aerial circus. His body was found inside the wreckage.

Two general theories were advanced as to the cause of the crash—that Holman misjudged his distance in attempting to level out after the power dive; and that his safety belt broke.

He was only about 50 feet up and traveling at a speed of nearly 300 miles an hour when he dropped. Some spectators said he was dangling from the cockpit by a knee brace as the plane flashed past the grandstand, upside down. They said he was clutching wildly at the controls and appeared for a fraction of a second to grasp them as the plane shot upward, then down again.

H. W. Peterson, of the Boeing Airways, discounted the theory of the broken belt. He said the straps were made ten times stronger than such an emergency would require. Inspector Bowdwin of the department of commerce rushed onto the field, obtained the strap and said he could report only to his superiors at Washington.

As Holman's ship crashed, women screamed and fainted. Police fought to maintain order. A band struck up a lively tune. Pilots rushed to their planes and a few minutes later a race was on.

Holman was 32 years old. He became a mail pilot in 1926, flying with the Northwest Airways. Later he won prominence by winning the Class A trophy in a New York to Spokane race. Early in 1928 he set a record for looping the loop, making 1,093 consecutive loops at Minneapolis. He later increased this record to 1,433.

In May, 1929, he won the first Gardiner trophy race from St. Louis to Indianapolis and return. The same year he started the aviation world by flying a tri-motored plane upside down and looping the big craft five times at the Cleveland air races. Looping a tri-motored plane still is considered a rare and remarkable feat.

"Speed" was a surprise last day entry in last year's Thompson trophy race, the annual Labor Day air classic. He was in second place in the race.

Omaha, May 18.—(U.P.)—Charles W. (Speed) Holman, 32, famous aviator, chose certain death rather than imperil the lives of spectators at the Omaha air races, pilots who witnessed his fatal plunge agreed today.

Holman died as spectacularly as he had lived when his plane struck the ground at a speed of nearly 300 miles an hour before the eyes of 20,000 persons packed in the grand stands at the air races.

It was his desire to give that crowd a greater thrill than any they had seen during the afternoon's program that caused his death.

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Joseph Catholic church at Crosby Saturday at 9:30 A. M. when Miss Loretta Brisbane of Riverton became the bride of Alfred W. Fruth of Daggett Brook.

Miss Catharine Fruth, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Joe Brisbane, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white satin, with long trailing veil made in cap effect and trimmed with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of deep pink roses and maiden hair fern.

The bridesmaid was attired in a peach colored all over lace ensemble and carried a bouquet of deep yellow roses. Mrs. H. R. McMasters of Riverton played the wedding march, also the recessional. Miss Laverne Richards sang "I Love You Truly" during the mass, also several other selections accompanied by Miss Agnes Hrvatin of Crosby and Mrs. McMasters.

After the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's mother at Riverton where about a hundred friends had gathered. They left that afternoon for the Twin Cities, Waseca and other points south on their wedding trip.

Pillager Church Loyal

After the regular afternoon services at the First Lutheran church of Pillager, Rev. and Mrs. August Samuelson were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swanson, south of town. Soon the whole congregation and a host of friends gathered to the number of about 100. They wanted in this to encourage the pastor in the work he is doing at this place. Mr. Satterlie, superintendent of the Pillager school, was the spokesman for the occasion. In his characteristic way he expressed the sentiments of the friends present and at the close of his talk he presented the pastor with an envelope with "cash."

The people of Pillager are very much attached to their church and church in every way. The pastor in and it is a one hundred percent turn expressed his appreciation for their love and loyalty during the past seven years that he has served the church. During these years many improvements have taken place in the church property.

A delicious lunch was served to all present.

OH THESE WOMEN!

By
LEOLA ALLARD

Copyright 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

She was a beautiful woman—once. She could still be one, if she would stop trying to beat nature and stay 22, which can't be done, Miss Hopper and Miss Ward notwithstanding. I was electrified when she walked into the room—slim, and with reddish brown hair, her skin very white, but lined with the years that sit as lightly as years can sit and still be 12 months long. Her clothes were young, just a tiny bit too young. In fact the youth of her get-up made her look older.

I looked the picture over carefully, wondering just what was the matter. She wasn't restful to look at. She irritated you. You want to call the last few years to account if they had had a hand in her undoing. It would have cost her less trouble and much less money to keep some of the paint off the picture.

I wondered why she didn't let her hair get grey and leave off an ounce or two of black from the brows and lashes. And let the brows grow where God placed them, even if she did even them up a little where they got scraggly. If she had, she would still be the loveliest woman I know. But she had hardened the picture, terribly. I couldn't help contrasting her with a soft, delicate little beauty I know who lives in a suburb nearby. She is a trifle younger than this former beauty, but her hair is snowy white. She, too, cares for her skin, which is pink and white, and her eyes are a soft heavenly blue. She thought God was a pretty good painter of human faces and she didn't pull out all her eye brows and paint on new ones.

Today she is the loveliest woman I know and everybody who sees her has the same thing to say of her. I wish the visiting beauty might get a glimpse of her. I wonder if it would do any good?

Both women keep themselves slim. They dance and walk, and stand on their heads and take hot baths, and diet reasonably. Their figures are perfect and their grooming faultless. But any man taking a look at the two beauties, would run for the white-haired beauty whose looks are so beautifully softened by her halo of snowy hair.

It's a tragedy to see a beauty dry up and wither away. But it is worse to see a woman strut around trying to fancy herself 22 when she is 45.

The Flower of Egypt

It was a sunny summer morning in long ago, far away Egypt. In a garden surrounded by orchards and vineyards, a little girl was playing among the flowers.

"Taia," called her mother's voice. "Come here. We must make garlands and bouquets for our guests who come today."

Taia quickly obeyed the summons. She loved to prepare the floral gifts for the visitors. These were made of different flowers according to the time of blossoming. Sometimes they were violets, sometimes roses and again chrysanthemums.

Today the flowers were lotus blossoms which one of the slaves had gathered from the pool in the garden. Taia loved these beautiful water lilies which she had always been told were the flowers of the gods.

There were two kinds of these blossoms. One was white and opened in the evening, the other blue with its petals lying expanded in the sunshine as if to catch the hue of the sky above. Taia liked this one better because she could see it when she was at play, while the white one opened only at night time.

While Taia worked on the garlands she asked many questions about her favorite.

"It is our country's flower," replied her mother, "The 'Lily of the Nile' and it is honored everywhere."

When the pleasant task of garland making was finished Taia and her mother went to the house. Around the wall outside and within the rooms stood pots of growing plants. Taia was allowed to arrange some of the lotus blossoms in vases for decoration. In honor of the expected company she was dressed in the dress embroidered with lotus blossoms. Later when the guests arrived she watched the servants throw the garlands around their necks, and offer each a small bouquet to hold in his hand. When the guests praised the beauty of the flowers Taia was greatly pleased.

At the noon meal, lotus bread was served, which Taia always liked. She knew that this was made from the seeds of the plants, for she had often seen the servants grind it into flour.

This was a festival day and there were to be special ceremonies in the temple near Taia's home. She was delighted that she was to attend with all the grown-up people.

Once more lotus blossoms were brought and Taia, like the others, was given a handful to carry with her. In the temple she saw many of these flowers placed before the statues of the gods and she reverently laid her own offering among them.

Stormy Petrel of Politics

CHARLES B. CHENEY in his review of Minnesota politics, states that Arthur C. Townley, stormy petrel of northwestern politics, is essaying a comeback. While the former czar of the Nonpartisan League has been discredited by repeated failures, both in business and in politics, he is a wizard at stirring up the populace. So his new move to revive the old league is being watched with interest. In so far as it succeeds, Townley will be a factor in politics, for he declares that the league will take part in campaigns, but not as an adjunct of any political party.

His plan therefore runs counter to that of the farmer-labor party. Yet in Minnesota it is hard to see how he could turn the league influence to any other party. It might be an asset to the third party, and it might be the reverse. The Windom Citizen surmises that Townley will prove "a great source of embarrassment" to the party.

"As usual the facts he gives are to a large extent true," says the Citizen. "And they are startling facts. There was never anything so much wrong with Townley's facts as there was with the conclusions he drew and the measures he advocated. That is why he was always able to get a large following. Feed a man, particularly a harassed man, with an imposing array of facts, which he knows are facts, and you impress him so much with your truthfulness and wisdom that he is willing to continue to follow your theories and suggestions as facts. But Townley is a bit too radical for the farmer-labor party; they would probably prefer that he stay outside of the state while they rule the state government."

The Williston, N. D., Herald, speaking with a close knowledge of the Townley career, thinks the comeback attempt will play out.

"He is a leader tried and found wanting," says the Herald. "His motives are open to question in the light of his record. He has become a gifted and persistent mendicant, assuming leadership for a class he no longer can claim to represent. He is like the old master of the violin who still stations himself at the busy corner, the cut in hand, and draws from his instrument plaintive and familiar melodies that win an occasional nickel but seldom stop traffic. Homely virtues this man had in plenty. Much persecution he endured, but he must be judged now and hereafter by what he actually did for the people whose efforts and thinking he sought to direct. He is rather a pitiful figure, pitiful because he is so thoroughly discredited, both by his own inability and the machinations of his false friends."

"The farmers of the northwest need leadership, given by serious, qualified and militant men. Mr. Townley can no longer qualify. His demagoguery is still colorful, so colorful in fact that he is not beyond suspicion of being merely a political backfire established by craftier men seeking to employ the psychology of division among a people that show some signs of getting together in their own interests."

"The hearts of thousands of his followers are still warm for A. C. Townley, but hardly so warm they will follow him far in his latest effort. In politics they seldom come back. Mr. Townley knows that, but he is apparently undismayed, for he continues to pass the hat."

Markets are People

BACK of the charts, back of the graphs and maps and tables, at the very cornerstone of all commerce and industry, lies the human equation, says N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc.

Markets are simply people. Charts can tell us how many of them there are, where they live and approximately how much they have to spend. But no chart can tell us what they are thinking, no graph can give us their inward hopes and prejudices, their secret ambitions and desires.

These are things which to a great degree determine the design and sale of modern merchandise. Upon a turn of popular taste, upon a slight shift in public favor, whole industries may rise or fall. Who wears hats today? Who plays the harmonium? What woman is without the once-maligned lipstick? What man does not own a safety razor?

All these changes have occurred in our time, and life is vastly different because of them. Now, at this moment, others are taking place, and tomorrow will see still more of them. So long as human nature is human nature, people will grow tired of things, alter their ideas, and seek ever-new avenues to greater comfort and happiness.

A knowledge of human nature, a thorough understanding of, and sympathy with, the thoughts and impulses underlying human behavior is a business asset of incalculable value. And in the well-established advertising agency, familiar as it is with many shades of public thought and feeling, this knowledge has of necessity been developed to a very high point.

In almost any business, human nature is an important factor. Here, if anywhere, is concrete evidence of the practical worth of Alexander Pope's wise observation: "The proper study of mankind is man."

Every Man for Himself

NEVER in the history of this or any other state has a legislature been made up of such discordant elements as composed the session just ended, says the Hokah Chief.

No party was in control, no policy was to be upheld, no pledges were to be kept, no responsibility could be fixed. Each man was a separate unit working by, for and with himself.

LAST week held a real cycle of weather for the Brainerd Lake Region. Sunday, May 10, started the week rainy and cold and temperatures gradually increased until they climaxed in the warmest weather of the whole state, 93 degrees Friday.

A NEW ultra-short wave radio telephone and telegraph device has been successfully tested between St. Margaret's Bay and Calais, France, by engineers. They claim the invention opens up 250,000 new wave channels.

HAPPY are the people who attend to their own business and keep the government out of it, says the St. Cloud Times-Journal.

A HIGHER federal income tax is sought, one that will cause the wealthy to pay more to help balance the government budget.

ONE school nurse is worth a dozen policemen, says Director of State Children's Bureau, Judge Charles Hall.

However, Denny's mother will not permit him to drive in the race, so he must be content to sit in the grandstand and watch his speeding creation roar around the track.

TWENTY GRAND SETS NEW DERBY RECORD

WINNER POUNDS OVER MILE AND A QUARTER ROUTE IN 2 MINUTES, 1 4-5 SECONDS

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—(U.P.)

Twenty Grand, winner of the fastest Kentucky Derby in history, seemed headed today for the 3-year-old championship of 1931 and a place in the turf world's permanent hall of fame. In winning the 57th edition of the historic race at Churchill Downs Saturday before 60,000 spectators, including Vice-President Charles Curtis, Twenty Grand set a new derby and track record of 2 minutes, 1 4-5 seconds for the mile and a quarter route. The time lowered by 1 3-5 seconds the former record of 2:03 2-5, made by Old Rosebud in 1914.

Until Twenty Grand stretched his long legs around the Downs' oval on Saturday, the Derby had been run under 2:04 only twice since 1896 when the distance was shortened from a mile and a half to a mile and a quarter. Outside of Old Rosebud's mark, Bubbling Over's time of 2:03 4-5 is the only other closely approaching the Greentree Stable colt's new record.

Average time for Derby winners at the present distance is well above 2:07. Gallant Fox won in 1930 in 2:07 3-5, Clyde Van Dusen in 1929 in 2:10 4-5 and Reigh Count in 1928 in 2:10 2-5. Of course, these races were run on muddy tracks.

Twenty Grand has started three races as a 2-year-old, and has won two of them and placed second in the other. Mrs. Payne Whitney's bay colt won the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, placed second in the Preakness and then won the Derby.

COLUMBUS CHALLENGES LEAD, SHUNTS LOUISVILLE INTO THIRD BERTH

(By United Press)

Columbus replaced Louisville as runner-up in the American Association today, while the St. Paul Club continued to lead by a narrow margin. By splitting a double-header with Indianapolis while Columbus was winning two games yesterday, the 1930 championship Louisville team dropped below second place for the first time since the season was under way. St. Paul defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 2, in the only league engagement not listed as a double-header. Betts was the winning pitcher.

After dropping the first game to Indianapolis, 6 to 9, Louisville came back in the nightcap to win, 9 to 5. Both teams were wild, 13 pitchers working in the two clashes.

By a single score each time, Columbus twice defeated Toledo. The score of the first game, 10-inning affair, was 2 to 1, and the second 6 to 5. Chapman of Columbus pitched a two-hit game in the opener, and was scored on only in the first inning.

Darkness ended the second Milwaukee-Kansas City contest with the score

KILLED IN TRIALS

Ft. Wayne, Ind., May 18.—(U.P.)—Raymond Meyers, 31, Indianapolis, O., a dirt track auto race driver, was killed during time trials at the Fort Wayne speedway yesterday when his machine hurtled over a 28-foot embankment. No spectators were injured.

The accident was caused by a broken spindle on the right front wheel. Meyers died of lung injuries a few minutes after the crash.

William Jennings, South Bend, was injured during the 25-mile feature race when his automobile overturned and caught fire. He was thrown clear.

Seeking British Open Crown

By HARDIN BURNLEY

JOHNNY FARRELL--ONE OF AMERICA'S BEST BETS IN THE COMING BRITISH OPEN PLAY!

LEO DIEGEL--IF LEO IS "HOT," HE WILL BE A REAL THREAT IN JOHN BULL'S PET TOURNEY!

© 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

WHILE the incomparable Bobby Jones and the glamorous Walter Hagen will not go to England this Spring for the British Open, Uncle Sam is proud of, and confident in, the American superstars who will try to make John Bull's golf masters dig petulant divots.

Gene Sarazen and his pal, Johnny Farrell; Leo Diegel, and the two Smiths—MacDonald and Horton—have gone, singly or in pairs, to strive for professional links supremacy abroad.

And in the British Amateur, America believes it has the winner in the person of George Voigt who is making a mighty attempt to succeed to the simon pure laurels of Jones.

British golfers are rather well acquainted with the American players named here, though only Jones and Hagen ever won any of John Bull's principal classics. Sarazen and Farrell have been Open runners-up over there, while Diegel and "Mac" Smith have thrilled with great rounds and shots in such events. However, only the presence of Jones or Hagen, or both, ever gave English and Scotch masters victory qualms of a "they-can't-be-beat" nature.

Yet now, in many an overseas locker room and pub those who talk golf are wondering "just what can bleedin' well be done to stop one of those bloomin' Yanks from winnin' our H'open?"

The British know much of Diegel's intriguing putting and the that Sarazen and Farrell are just approaching golfing prime. They realize the American talent is aroused at the prospect of producing a successor to Jones. Why Horton Smith, now verging on 23, and whose game went bla a few months ago, traveled overseas more than a month in advance of the Open to thoroughly acclimatize himself and practice with his English friend, Sir Philip Sassoon! Jones and "Hort" Smith are warm friends. If Horton can "get back on his game" he may be the dark horse in the Open, but that's no consolation for John Bull who must be worrying as he thinks of the victory chances of Sarazen, Farrell, Diegel or "Mac" Smith.

COLUMBUS CHALLENGES LEAD, SHUNTS LOUISVILLE INTO THIRD BERTH

(By United Press)

Columbus replaced Louisville as runner-up in the American Association today, while the St. Paul Club continued to lead by a narrow margin. By splitting a double-header with Indianapolis while Columbus was winning two games yesterday, the 1930 championship Louisville team dropped below second place for the first time since the season was under way.

St. Paul defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 2, in the only league engagement not listed as a double-header. Betts was the winning pitcher.

After dropping the first game to Indianapolis, 6 to 9, Louisville came back in the nightcap to win, 9 to 5. Both teams were wild, 13 pitchers working in the two clashes.

By a single score each time, Columbus twice defeated Toledo. The score of the first game, 10-inning affair, was 2 to 1, and the second 6 to 5. Chapman of Columbus pitched a two-hit game in the opener, and was scored on only in the first inning.

Darkness ended the second Milwaukee-Kansas City contest with the score

Seeking British Open Crown

By HARDIN BURNLEY

JOHNNY FARRELL—ONE OF AMERICA'S BEST BETS IN THE COMING BRITISH OPEN PLAY!

LEO DIEGEL—IF LEO IS "HOT," HE WILL BE A REAL THREAT IN JOHN BULL'S PET TOURNEY!

WHILE the incomparable Bobby Jones and the glamorous Walter Hagen will not go to England this Spring for the British Open, Uncle Sam is proud of, and confident in, the American superstars who will try to make John Bull's golf masters dig petulant divots.

Gene Sarazen and his pal, Johnny Farrell; Leo Diegel, and the two Smiths—MacDonald and Horton—have gone, singly or in pairs, to strive for professional links supremacy abroad.

And in the British Amateur, America believes it has the winner in the person of George Voigt who is making a mighty attempt to succeed to the simon pure laurels of Jones.

British golfers are rather well acquainted with the American players named here, though only Jones and Hagen ever won any of John Bull's principal classics. Sarazen and Farrell have been Open runners-up over there, while Diegel and "Mac" Smith have thrived with great rounds and shots in such events. However, only the presence of Jones or Hagen, or both, ever gave English and Scotch masters victory qualms of a "they-can't-be-beat" nature.

Yet now, in many an overseas locker room and pub those who talk golf are wondering "just what can bleedin' well be done to stop one of those bloomin' Yanks from winnin' our H'open?"

The British know much of Diegel's intriguing putting and the that Sarazen and Farrell are just approaching golfing prime. They realize the American talent is aroused at the prospect of producing a successor to Jones. Why Horton Smith, now verging on 23, and whose game went flat a few months ago, traveled overseas more than a month in advance of the Open to thoroughly acclimatize himself and practice with his English friend, Sir Philip Sassoon! Jones and "Hort" Smith are warm friends. If Horton can "get back on his game" he may be the dark horse in the Open, but that's no consolation for John Bull who must be worrying as he thinks of the victory chances of Sarazen, Farrell, Diegel or "Mac" Smith.

WHEAT CONFERENCE PONDERERS THE CRISIS

HOWARD FERGUSON URGES CORRECTION OF FAULTY METHOD OF DISTRIBUTION

By ARTHUR DEGREVE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 12.—A plea for relief for the wheat farmer as a means of solving a crisis "affecting all mankind" was voiced by G. Howard Ferguson, chief Canadian delegate, at the opening of the world wheat conference today.

"Our efforts should be directed toward getting the farmer a fair wage without increasing the cost of living of his fellow-worker," Ferguson said.

Ferguson, who was unanimously elected chairman of the conference on the motion of Wm. R. McKelvie, the American delegate, emphasized the necessity of co-operation among the importing and exporting wheat countries.

Ferguson in his address of welcome to the 36 delegates from 14 wheat exporting countries, including the United States, said two vital problems faced the conference:

1. Disposition of the present accumulative stocks.
2. Improved methods of handling the stock in the future.

He said that the production of food was the world's greatest industry in which wheat played one of the most important parts. He insisted that it therefore was essential that wheat reach the consumer according to their requirements, and stressed that it was imperative that the farmers receive a reasonable price for their product.

Ferguson said there was considerable of an enormous world wide surplus of wheat but that he doubted this was due to overproduction. Instead, he insisted, the fault lies chiefly with a faulty method of distribution which he hoped the conference would be able to correct.

"The present crisis," Ferguson said, "is one affecting all mankind. It therefore is essential that the delegates should consider the problem in the broad view of assisting our fellow man as well as ourselves."

Lived Aviator's Death in Her Mind a Thousand Times, Mrs. Holman Says

Minneapolis, May 12.—(U.P.)—"Be very, very careful" were the final words of a telephone conversation between Charles W. (Speed) Holman, who was killed yesterday at Omaha, and his wife here. Holman called his wife less than two hours before he was killed while stunt-ing.

"I've lived this over in my mind a thousand times," she said. "Now it's a reality. I think, if he had had his choice, he would have preferred to die in aviation."

OHIO RACKETEER SLAIN ENTERING CAR

Massillon, O., May 12.—(U.P.)—Gangster guns spoke from an open doorway in Columbia Heights today, killing William "Bill" Kirkillia, 38, reputed overlord of the district's racketeers, who had sworn vengeance in the death of a henchman several days earlier.

Kirkillia, purported "boss" of James Speros, whom police said was killed by hoodlums from the Canton "Jungles" was shot as he emerged from an apartment house and stepped into his waiting limousine. His assassin fired from an open doorway across the street and fled on foot, tossing his gun into a nearby creek. Kirkillia was killed instantly.

With the death of the gang leader and Speros, police feared an outbreak of warfare between the "Jungle" and Columbia Heights factions, which were aligned in the assassination five years ago of Don R. Mellett, militant newspaper editor.

Speros was reportedly an informer

Young attributed the failure of manufacturing to stand up in the general progress partly to the change from a large number of producing units to a highly specialized group.

Summarizing the last two-year period in aviation, he concluded: "We constructed more than 6,000 miles of lighted airways; examined and licensed more than 5,000 airmen and some 4,000 aircraft; issued approved certificates to 96 aircraft and 13 engines; issued approximately 10,000 permits to student flyers, and supplied some 2,000 unlicensed airplanes with identification cards."

"In addition we gave assistance in the establishment of about 700 municipal and commercial airports."

Troops reinforced the police in maintaining order. A force of 20,000 men was on duty, patrolling the strike zone.

The men entered the night club about 1:33 a. m. Five couples and attendants were ordered to raise their hands. One of the bandits went from boot to boot demanding the patrons "fork over your dough." The other bandit took all the cash from the register and the pair fled in an automobile.

The fire started in the garage, probably from spontaneous combustion among oil soaked waste, according to firemen. By 8 o'clock the blaze had gutted the garage and the hardware store adjoining the motor company.

when the leader, Capt. Arthur Page, crashed. He flew on to win a spectacular victory at an average speed of almost 200 miles per hour. The $10,000 Thompson trophy has been in his possession since.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Tribute to Charles W. (Speed) Holman, one of the northwest's leading aviators who was killed yesterday while stunting at Omaha, was paid today by both public officials and flying companions.

Governor Floyd B. Olson said that Holman "not only was one of America's greatest fliers but he was one of the finest fellows I ever met."

Adjutant General E. A. Walsh said, "I am inexpressibly shocked and grieved. The world has lost a most courageous aviator. We shall miss him."

Chadwick B. Smith, chief pilot of the Northwest Airways, and C. G. Chadwick, traffic manager of the Northwest Airways, both praised Holman's work with their organization and said he was one of the best fliers in the country. "To say his death is a loss is putting it lightly," Chadwick said.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Five planes from the St. Paul Aviation Club left at 11 A. M. today for Omaha, Neb., where the fliers will form an honorary escort for the body of Charles "Speed" Holman.

Funeral arrangements will be made after arrival of Holman's body at 8:30 A. M. Tuesday, members of the family said.

Although officers found a revolver in one pocket of the captured automobile, no effort was made to resist arrest, officers said.

Rifles Stop Iceberg

Shots from rifles of workmen kept an iceberg from wrecking scows anchored off Juneau, Alaska. The huge berg had drifted from a glacier over the cables used by the divers. The workers shot a big fissure in the center, and this caused the ice to break into smaller sections which drifted harmlessly away.

DAIRY FACTS

LEAKY SEPARATOR IS WORST "ANIMAL"

Machines Stealing Butterfat Are Unprofitable.

One of the most unprofitable "animals" any dairyman can have is a cream separator that is not working properly, says H. R. Searles of St. Paul, Minn. Some dairymen who would not tolerate a single unprofitable cow have "leaky" separators that waste the profits of the entire herd.

Just how prevalent faulty separators are is indicated by the fact that one out of every three machines used by new members of the Minnesota State-Wide Cow Testing association have been found to be "stealing" butterfat, as Mr. Searles puts it. Some of the skim milk samples sent in have tested as high as 16 hundredths of 1 per cent. This would mean that in every 10,000 pounds of milk, 16 pounds of fat would be lost. The loss on some herds has been more than $4 a month, figuring fat at only 30 cents.

A separator should hold the fat loss in skim milk down to from 1 to 2 hundredths of 1 per cent, Mr. Searles explains. Among the common reasons why separators fail to skim efficiently are bowls out of balance, bent disks, worn spindle shafts or bearings, machine not fastened to floor or not level, worn-out tinware, machine turned too slowly or too unevenly. These and other causes may usually be remedied without much trouble.

To guard against losses, separators should be checked by a skim milk test every month. When cream can be seen on the skim milk there is a loss of at least 10 hundredths of 1 per cent. The separator check which is provided members of the State-Wide Cow Testing association is proving of real value, according to Mr. Searles. The association gained about 400 new members during February. The total on March 1 was about 750 and growing rapidly.

Keeping Barnyard Free of Fertilizing Manure

One of the best dairy farmers in eastern Ontario is able to make the unusual claim that, in the past eight years, there has never been a single load of manure accumulate in his barnyard. He cleans his stables each morning and the litter carrier is dumped directly on the sleds or wagon, as the case may be, and hauled to the field. This man has a sandy farm and it is not often that he cannot drive anywhere to spread manure. Farmers with clay land might find it more difficult to follow this plan, but all must admit that a yard full of manure is not a thing of beauty and the clean yard of our eastern Ontario friend looks decidedly more sanitary as an exercising place for a dairy herd, says a writer in the Montreal Herald. The Ohio experiment station offers an additional argument for keeping the barnyard clear of manure. Over a period of 30 years, which should be long enough to be conclusive, it has been found that manure which was spread on the field as produced, increased the average yield of corn per acre by three-fourths bushels, of wheat three-fourths bushels, and of clover hay 400 pounds more than did manure which was left in the pile in the barnyard and spread in the spring.

Cows and Heifers Soon to Freshen Are Assets

Cows and heifers soon to freshen are the dairyman's greatest assets, says E. J. Perry, extension service dairyman of New Jersey. Every effort should be made to feed and properly protect these animals from accidents, rough handling, and storms. Feed hay and grain while on pasture, he advises, and keep these cows and heifers near the barn and under close observation. Any good commercial-fitting ration containing 12 to 16 per cent protein should give satisfactory results at this time, Mr. Perry advises. As a good home mixed ration, he suggests this formula: 100 pounds each of corn meal, ground oats, wheat bran, oil meal and 4 pounds of salt. The animals should also have access to water and salt in brick form. About two weeks before calving the grain mixture should be gradually changed by eliminating the corn and oats, so that only bran and oil meal will be fed during the last few days.

Heifers soon to freshen should be brought into the barn with the milking herd when the period of liberal ration feeding begins. They can be fed while in the stallion, which gets them accustomed to being tied in the barn, and also enables the feeder to keep close watch on their condition.

Safety Bull Pen

South Dakota reports construction of 25 safety bull pens as a dairy extension project recently. The average length was 60 feet and the average width 20 feet. The cost ranged from $10 to $70. In most cases both a shed and breeding stall were constructed also. This is the only safe method of retaining bulls until they can be proved. Furthermore, proved bulls are the only sure method a dairyman has of breeding up a profitable herd.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting
Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. adv.

"MURDER AT EAGLE'S NEST" By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

The body of Baroness von Wiese is found in the garden of Eagle's Nest, Emily Hardy's palatial country home, wrapped in Mary Frost's shawl. Preceding her murder, the Baroness had given a note to the butler. This he denies. She had also quarreled with her maid, Mary Frost, returning for her shawl, at midnight, saw it on Laura Allan. Laura, however, claims Mary entered the garden wearing the shawl. "Bim" Martin, young newspaper reporter, fiancée of Assistant Police Chief Walter Vance, learns Laura was responsible for the broken engagement of her own sister and Ted Frost, Mary's husband. Ted had also flirted with the Baroness. "Bim" observing the butler dancing, wonders about him. She learns from Carl Carey, New York reporter, that the Baroness was Margot Belle, famous dancer.

CHAPTER XXV.

BIM told Walter then about the interview with Mary Frost, reporting somewhat reluctantly Mary's fears for Ted. "She's scared sick. And I don't believe it's of anything she knows, I think it's what she doesn't know that's upset her. Maybe she suspects that after Ted left her at Eagle's Nest and drove away in a drunken rage he saw or heard something he won't tell."

"Water, however, did not agree with this. 'You're too sure of Mary Frost, Bim. She knows what she's afraid of and she's the one that's not talking.'"

"But she did talk to me."

"Oh, sure. Told you what she knew would be found out anyway. You can't let friendship cramp your style too much in this."

"Why, that's just what Carl said."

"Carl?" growled Walter. "That the sheik from New York?"

"He's not a sheik. And anyway—"

"See here, Bim—"

What followed was almost a quarrel and it was Bim instead of Walter who made overtures of reconciliation for she had a vague feeling somehow that she was at fault. The feeling had to do with a conviction that unreasonable as was Walter's jealousy of the gorgeous Mr. Carey, she was still more unreasonable to resent it.

Love's Right

She would not, however, promise not to see Carey

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Tribute to Charles W. (Speed) Holman, one of the northwest's leading aviators who was killed yesterday while stunting at Omaha, was paid today by both public officials and flying companions.

Governor Floyd B. Olson said that Holman "not only was one of America's greatest fliers but he was one of the finest fellows I ever met."

Adjutant General E. A. Walsh said, "I am inexpressibly shocked and grieved. The world has lost a most courageous aviator. We shall miss him."

Chadwick B. Smith, chief pilot of the Northwest Airways, and C. G. Chadwick, traffic manager of the Northwest Airways, both praised Holman's work with their organization and said he was one of the best fliers in the country. "To say his death is a loss is putting it lightly," Chadwick said.

St. Paul, Minn., May 18.—Five planes from the St. Paul Aviation Club left at 11 A. M. today for Omaha, Neb., where the fliers will form an honorary escort for the body of Charles "Speed" Holman.

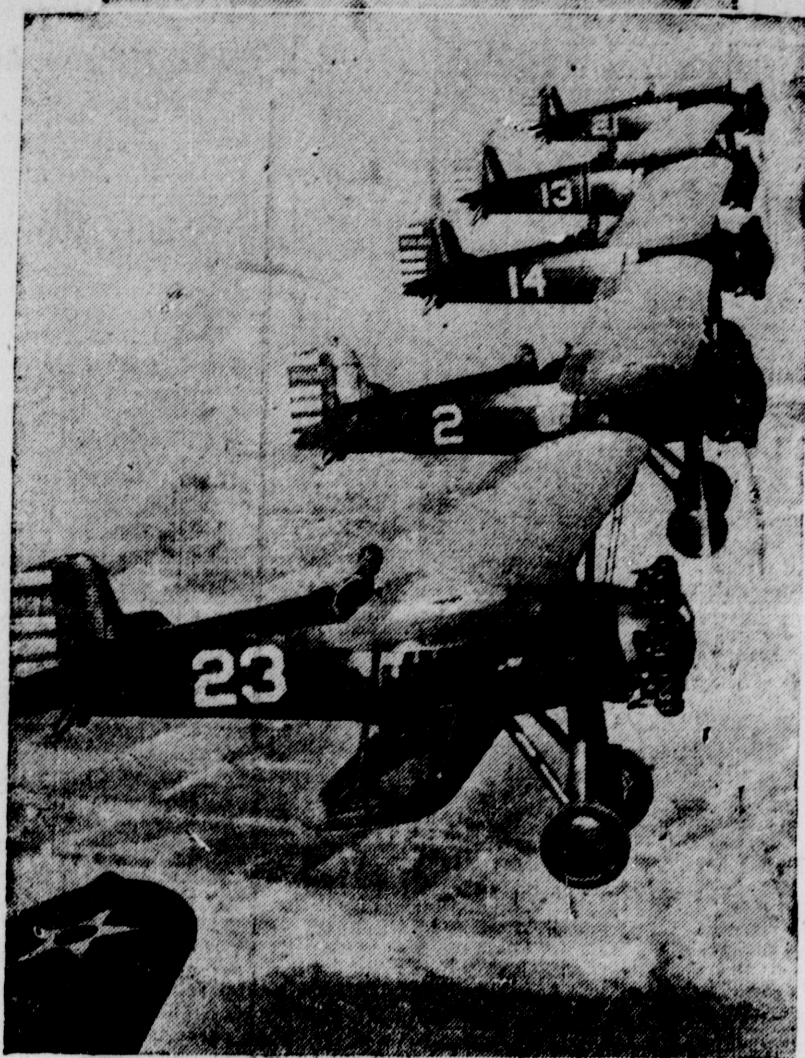

Funeral arrangements will be made after arrival of Holman's body at 8:30 A. M. Tuesday, members of the family said.

"I had gas bloating and indigestion so bad I could not digest meat. I took Adlerika and now I am all right. Can even eat and digest pork." — Nora Jones.

'Nothing Like It' Say Lovely Women

No wonder beautiful women love this new face powder made by exclusive French process. MELLO-GLO stays on longer. Prevents large pores. So smooth and fine, it blends naturally with any complexion and gives fresh, youthful bloom. No irritation. No flay or pasty look. Never leaves the skin dry. It's wonderful! Johnson's Pharmacy. advt.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting
Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. advt.
